MILITIAMEN DISPERSE MEMBERS OF OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE SEEKING TO MEET TO IMPEACH GOVERNOR WALTON

WILMINGTON, Delaware, Sept. 26.—"If one drop of Klansmen blood is spilled in Oklahoma today, Governor Jack Walton of that state will be hanged before sunset. The Klan in Oklahoma has done no harm. It has been law abiding, but we fear for the possibilities of today when the legislature meets in extra session there."

This statement was made by Dr. J. H. Hanks, Atlanta, Georgia, in addressing four hundred members of the Klan's provisional Klan early today. Hanks is a Klan official who has been organizing the order in the state of Delaware.

Members mobilizing members of the order in Oklahoma today have been issued, he stated. They will be armed and will "fight for their constitutional rights," he added.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—Oklahoma legislators attempting to convene for the impeachment of Governor J. C. Walton were dispersed before the doors of the hall of representatives today by the Oklahoma national guards.

building silently. There was no demonstration. Court action will be instituted immediately, according to Representative W. D. McBeck, to establish the legislators' rights to meet despite orders forbidding the assembly, issued by Governor Walton.

FEDERAL OFFICERS TOLD TO KEEP OFF OKLAHOMA FIGHT

Washington, Sept. 26.—President Coolidge has directed that Federal officials in Oklahoma maintain the strictest neutrality in any struggle that may occur between Governor Walton and State Legislators or other authorities.

The President, it was said at the White House, is determined that the Federal Government shall not be dragged into the Oklahoma trouble by either side, unless conditions make it necessary for the Government to step in to prevent great loss of life or a condition of lawlessness.

Emphatic orders not to permit the use of the Federal Building in Oklahoma City or any other place in Oklahoma as an assembly hall for the state legislators were telegraphed last night to custodians of all federal buildings in the state by Bacon Sloop, the President's Secretary.

Governor Walton Had The Situation Well In Hand Early Today

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—With a battery of artillery placed within shooting range of the State Capitol, Governor Jack Walton today defied the members of the Legislature to attempt to go into session.

The anti-Walton members plan to meet today at noon to impeach the Governor, who placed the state under martial law in his campaign against "Invisible Government" by masked bands.

500 National Guardsmen also are under orders to be at the State House at noon, to interpose a barrage of bayonets between the legislators and the Capitol building.

3,500 citizens are ready to come to his assistance if they are needed, Walton announced. If he is hard pressed, he will call them "to the colors," he said.

Members of the legislature who answered the call for the special session began gathering at Skervin Hotel early in the day in preparation for their attempt to storm the Capitol. Apparently there was considerable confusion in the ranks of the legislators, who, on the surface, at least, were without a plan of procedure.

A caucus scheduled for last night was not held. However, leaders indicated they had a program mapped out, which they believed would result in success of their movement, but they did not desire to show their hand before the hour set for the "show-down."

The Governor's camp was elated by the action of the Washington Administration in refusing to permit use of the Federal Building for the proposed meeting of the legislators.

Assemblies of more than "two persons near the Capitol was forbidden." All citizens were warned by newspapers to keep away from the vicinity of the Capitol.

State house employees were on a one day vacation on orders of the Governor. Only one entrance of the Capitol was unlocked and a heavy guard of troops blocked the way to that door.

Persons reaching the Capitol grounds were forced to carry special passes.

OMAHA MAN HEADS AMERICAN BANKERS ASSOCIATION NOW

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26.—Walter H. Head, President of the Omaha National Bank was elected President of the American Bankers' Association, succeeding John H. Puelicher, at the morning session of the A. B. A. Convention here.

Wm. E. Knox, head of the Bowery State Bank of New York was elected First Vice President of the Association, filling the position left vacant by the election of Head. Knox was Second Vice president of the Association.

Three Million Dollar Collapse

As the workers on the new bridge connecting Schenectady, N. Y. with Scotia and the west were pouring the concrete on the last span, the wooden structure gave way, plunging them to the water below. Many were injured, some fatally. Whole structure is missing.

CONNELLY-FLANAGAN NUPTIALS

Miss Anna Connelly and Leo Flanagan, well known and popular Clearfield young people were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Francis Catholic church this morning. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock, the beautiful and impressive nuptial mass being celebrated by Rev. Father M. A. Ryan, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Miss Mary McGannon, of DuBois, cousin of the bride acted as bridesmaid, while the bride's brother, John F. Connelly was best man. Mrs. William Seifert played the wedding march and Mrs. R. L. McElroy sang two solos during the ceremony.

Following the wedding the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frank Connelly, on Cherry street, where a sumptuous and finely appointed wedding breakfast was enjoyed.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Frank Connelly. She is a fine young woman, possessing all the graces and accomplishments to make her a worthy helpmeet. She has been an office employee at the Garhart Knitting Machine Factory for several years and possesses a host of warm friends in Clearfield who wish her and her husband all the joys of a happy and successful married life. The groom is a promising young man holding the responsible position of shipping clerk with the Harbinson Walker Refractories Company and enjoys the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

At 10 o'clock the happy couple departed for Philadelphia by automobile and will visit several eastern cities and resorts before returning to their home on Cherry street.

President Of Bankers Association Praises Newspaper Advertising

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26.—The American Bankers' Association officially opened its 49th annual convention with a general session on the Million Dollar pier yesterday.

A vigorous assault on the various schools of so-called "radicals" of the day was made by J. H. Puelicher, president of the association, in his opening address. He spoke of the capitalistic system as having "brought all the people more comfort and greater leisure than any other system thus far."

The employment of newspaper advertising is the surest way for a bank to increase its business, W. R. Moorhouse, vice president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles, declared in his address before the bankers. As an advertising medium, the people of the entire community may be reached in a single day, he pointed out.

Mrs. E. M. Redhead of Akron, O., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mease. Ord Mease of Akron, O., is visiting relatives and friends.

Woodland's Booster Club Engages In Safety First Work For The Children

The Woodland Booster Club, organized some three or four months ago, continues to function in excellent manner, and since its organization has been the machinery by which a great many worth while things have been accomplished.

At Monday evening's meeting a committee was appointed to see that warning signs were erected at the approaches to the school zones in Woodland and there was also a committee named to attend the "Trunk Line meeting," which was held at Clearfield yesterday.

The speaker of the evening was Harold Woolridge, who some time ago was appointed to give the members of the Booster Club something in the way of early history of Clearfield county and especially that of Bradford township. Mr. Woolridge had his subject well in hand and his remarks were both instructive and entertaining.

The Club is very much interested in reducing accidents to children on the streets of Woodland, and in addition to seeing that warning signs are put up at schools, they have also appointed a committee whose duty will be to visit the different school rooms and give "Safety First" talks to the pupils.

OKLAHOMA SOLONS BEGAN MARCH ON CAPITAL AT 9:55

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—Insurgent State Representatives, seeking to impeach Governor J. C. Walton for his military warfare on the Ku Klux Klan, began their march on the state Capitol at 9:55 a. m. today.

As the legislators left their headquarters at the Skervin Hotel, they were flanked on either side by Governor Walton's operatives including some of the south-west's most famous gunmen.

The legislators planned to meet despite Governor Walton's threat to jail them all in case they attempted to gather. The towering "Guck" Garrett and Zack Mulhall, with heavy revolvers in plain view, directed the police officers. The legislators marched between the columns of Walton's operatives out of the hotel.

Word had been received from the Capitol building that the representatives would be allowed the freedom of the halls and corridors but would not be permitted to enter the senate chamber or the hall of representatives.

Armed guards were patrolling the Capitol grounds and all corridors of the buildings.

Sentries were posted at the entrances of the legislature.

FREE ATTRACTIONS A FEATURE OF THE CLEARFIELD FAIR

Record Breaking Crowd Attends On First Day; Preparations Complete for Big Day Tomorrow.

RACES ABOVE PAR

The opening of the Clearfield County Fair yesterday attracted a record breaking "first day" crowd to the park and every visitor was highly pleased by the entertainment furnished.

Lieut. Scava and his gendarmes supplied many thrills during their exceptional and out of the ordinary performance. Their running and chariot races were real classics and need but be seen to be highly appreciated.

The trotting and pacing races, three in number, were also exceptionally good and brought out some fast horses.

There were a number of interesting free attractions which will be added to tonight by a grand display of fireworks at 8:30 o'clock.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE MITCHELL MILLING CO.

At the recent Firemen's Convention held in Clearfield, prize was given away to the holders of lucky tickets. One of these prizes which called for $200 worth of merchandise at any Clearfield store, was won by the Mitchell Milling Company of Clearfield.

At the meeting of the Fire Department held Monday evening the following letter was read by Secretary Spangler:—

Clearfield, Aug. 25, 1923
Clearfield Fire Department
Gentlemen:

Having been very fortunate in winning the $200.00, 3rd prize at your recent convention, we have decided to donate that amount back to the Clearfield Fire Department.

We wish to say that we are glad that we have this opportunity to do something for the Firemen of Clearfield.

Yours very truly

NEW TRUNK LINE GETS BIG BOOST BY FORMATION HERE YESTERDAY OF LAKES TO THE SEA TRUNK LINE ASSOCIATION

Four Hundred Enthusiastic Boosters for Rights of the Central Northern and the Northwestern Part of State Band Themselves Together for Vigorous Action.

EVERY ACTION TAKEN WAS UNANIMOUS

The proposed new trunk line across the state of Pennsylvania took another step forward yesterday when representatives of every community between Williamsport and Oil City met here at the Dime Hotel to the Esq., of Clarion, who presented a number of about four hundred and formed an organization to be known as the Lakes to the Sea Railway Trunk Line Association until the matter of assignment of the railways of the nation is definitely settled under the terms of the Transportation Act of 1920.

The assemblage met at the Dime Hotel Ball room at 2:30 p. m. following the call authorized by the attendants at the Williamsport meeting some time ago at which every attempt to take action was thwarted by representatives of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads who were planted in the audience. Yesterday, those who came here came because they wanted action and it did not take long to get it.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. H. B. Powell who presided at the Williamsport meeting and who was again chosen chairman. Mr. Randall B. Brubaker was chosen secretary. Facing these two gentlemen were at least one hundred men from Brookville, as many from Clarion and more from DuBois. Other communities were well represented.

Mr. Powell briefly outlined the purpose of the meeting which was for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the communities represented and, if that sentiment was unanimous, to effect what the New York Central was endeavoring to do. He read liberal extracts from the testimony given by President Smith before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the steps that this executive department was carrying out in plan for the establishment of trunk lines, and the necessity for such action, especially the construction of the stretch of track from Rose Sliding in Clearfield and the acquisition of a portion of the Reading and the entire of the Central Railroad of

STUDLEY ACQUITTED OF CHARGE GROWING OUT OF BOOZE FIGHT

Victim Broke Neck In Fall After Fight With Studley, Defense; Able Lawyers On Defense.

KUDRICK GUILTY

Clyde Studley, who was placed on trial in Judge Bell's court on Monday last charged with the killing of Albert E. Brookman in a drunken row at the boarding house of H. C. Bailey in Lawrence township, near the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Works, was found not guilty by the jury which heard the evidence and returned their verdict last evening.

Brookman died as the result of a series of battles between himself and several other men engaged in an all day drinking bout there. Studley was one of the men with whom Brookman fought and the former admitted striking Brookman over the head and shoulders with a chair.

The witnesses called testified that after battling with Studley Brookman was able to walk out of the house, later being found hanging over the porch railing. An examination disclosed that the man was dead and it was found his death was caused by a broken neck.

The deense contended Brookman had broken his neck by falling off the porch after the affray with Studley and the jury took that view of the matter.

Studley was defended by J. Mitchell Chase and John J. Penns, while District Attorney Arnold conducted the prosecution.

Mike Kudrick, the Morant miner, who on July 23d last, struck George Rucker, aged 18, on the head with a club causing injuries which resulted in Rucker's death in the Philadelphia hospital on August 15th, entered a plea of guilty of voluntary manslaughter.

Curwensville's Own Column

It is not a question today of school coal contracts among the rank and file of Curwensville voters, but whether the county or the borough will be soaked for the rebuilding of the Anderson creek bridge which dismantled itself last Saturday forenoon. After the Johnstown flood of 1899 had taken away and destroyed the wooden bridge at this point, the County Commissioners, namely Messrs. Thompson, Savage and Mock, gave or donated to Curwensville borough the sum of $5,000 for material for a new iron bridge, even going so far as to purchase and place the iron, etc., on the ground thus ending as was thought by them, their obligation. The borough, it is said by those who have remembered all of the circumstances, built the stone abutments and placed the iron work thereon. Since that time the borough authorities have taken care of and kept up the repairs to the structure. The question now being debated is "to whom does the bridge belong, and to whom will the expense of building a new one be charged?" The question does not simplify the fact that some one, let it be either county or borough, will have to provide some mode of getting to and fro across the creek within the next few days at the farthest. Borough Council held a special meeting last evening for the purpose of discussing the question and figuring out some plan if it is their duty to do so, of laying a temporary passageway, if only sufficiently wide and strong enough to permit the school children a safe passage over the stream in going and returning from school.

Williams' Colored Singers, the world's greatest harmonizing octet has been secured for a one-night entertainment and will appear in the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening, October 11th, 1928. Gipsy Smith, one of America's greatest evangelists, sends out this testimonial: "I have had the rare pleasure of listening to the Williams' Jubilee Singers. Their singing is an uplifting as well as a refined entertainment. I gladly commend them to my friends and the general public."

Frank Hastings dropped into town the latter part of last week. We are told he will dispose of his property in this place and remove with his family to Buffalo, where he has secured employment at a good salary.

Borough Council met in special session Monday evening. Those of the Board present were President Hess, Sweney and Hills, First Ward, and Edwards, Small and Moore, representing the Second Ward. The purpose for which the meeting was called was to determine the bridge's ownership, and the providing for transporting passengers from one side of the creek to the other without endangering life or limb. Borough Solicitor Arnold and M. Westcott of the State Highway department were also present, and at intervals throughout the meeting proffered some very sensible advice and preliminary details of how to meet the emergency.

It seems that there is no doubt whatever that the bridge was borough property, but that question is not finally settled in the minds of Council or their attorney, nor will ownership be declared until Solicitor Arnold has more time to look into the records.

There is one thing morally sure, however, and that is that no state financial aid can be depended upon. It might be possible, however, that the County Commissioners might be persuaded to give a donation for the rebuilding of the bridge if the Borough has it to do, and Mr. Westcott offered several good suggestions as to the erection and cost of a concrete structure in case a bridge was to be placed on the old site.

It was decided to effectively close the approaches at both ends of the dismantled structure and prohibit persons using it even for a foot-bridge. This action was taken on legal advice in order that no accidents might happen thereon and thus avoid any and all suits for damages. The detour via the John Porter farm will be used by those traveling the Grampian road. By next Saturday the new state road will be opened from end of State street to the Roaring Run, thus giving passageway to the Anderson Creek hill route to DuBois.

It was also decided to have a state bridge inspector go over the bridge across the creek at south end of Filbert street, and report as to its strength and durability for heavy traffic which now necessarily must pass over it or go via the old wooden bridge at the mouth of the creek. It was also decided to make the creel run bridge below the tannery a "one way" passageway and also limit the weight to ten tons, including weight of vehicle; the speed to be not more than 15 miles per hour.

A committee for constructing a foot bridge was appointed. A motion was made by Edwards and seconded by Hills empowering said committee to proceed at once with the work. This trio consists of Pres. Hess, Sweney and Moore.

A letter was read from Attorney Hess asking that a settlement be amicably made with his clients, Geo.

Segars and two others, who were in the Maxwell car when the bridge went down, they claim physical injury and damage to car. This matter was submitted to Solicitor Arnold. Mr. Westcott, as representing the State Highway Department, voiced himself to willingly do anything with in his power to assist the Borough in their present predicament.

The question of Borough finances was discussed and it was learned that Council could borrow only about $2000 until the limit of bonded indebtedness was reached, and that would only be a small portion of what it would take to replace the damaged bridge, say from $6000 to $8,000. But a cash bridge tax could be levied on taxpayers by Court Order and some other legal formalities complied with.

Paul Cutler, who resides out on the John Appleton homestead in Pike township, was taken into custody Monday night on a charge of selling moonshine, the purchaser being Charlie Draucker, it was alleged and sworn to by Mrs. Cal Price, with whom Draucker boarded. Cutler was given a hearing and sent to jail to await trial.

George Proud, who has been married but a short period of time, was arrested on a warrant charging him with non support of his family and desertion. He is now an inmate of Fort Lowell.

Miss Elizabeth King leaves today for Elmira, N. Y. where she will attend a fall and winter term of school.

Prof. and Mrs. Norris entertained the teachers of the public schools and the school directors and their wives, with one exception, at their home on the Anderson hill avenue one evening last week. Being a very modest man the professor failed to put ye reporter next to this item of news

NEW TRUNK LINE GETS BIG BOOST

New Jersey. It is very apparent that the extension of the "Clearfield route" as this is known, is a vital part of the New York Central plan for the establishment of a trunk line.

In conclusion Mr. Crowley stated there will be consolidations of railroads; that step is inevitable, and the proposition advanced by the New York Central will take nothing away from any community; it will add to the prosperity of these communities. He said that the proposed trunk line would make the distance between New York and Chicago 935 miles, approximately 40 miles shorter than any route now in use.

Following Mr. Crowley's address an opportunity was given for the asking of questions and A. H. Woodward propounded several. His first question was whether or not the new plan would take over the entire Philadelphia & Reading railroad. This and the question asked relative to the C. R. R. of N. J. had been fully answered in Mr. Crowley's address.

A. M. Liveright then asked what the building of this trunk line meant to Clearfield. Mr. Crowley answered by stating that no details in the plan had been worked out as regards to shops or terminals, but that the trunk line would give Clearfield, as well as all communities, better shipping facilities. At this point Chairman Powell stated Clearfield was already planning for improvements in case the railroad was built, and that he hoped all communities were doing the same thing.

Following this discussion the resolution introduced by Mr. Rimer, was unanimously adopted.

G. A. Stewart, of Clearfield, then introduced a resolution that petitions be circulated throughout all communities interested in the project and that all possible signatures be secured for forwarding to the Inter-State Commerce Commission. There was some discussion on this proposition but it was later adopted.

A motion was then passed authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee of five empowered to bring in nominations for permanent chairman, board of directors, suggest a name and outline a set of by-laws. This committee consisted of Philip Reed, of Clearfield; J. R. Osborn, DuBois; L. A. Leathers, Brookville; M. F. Powell, Clearfield.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. R. C.

The official primary election count for Judge shows that A. R. Chase, Esq., nosed J. Frank Snyder, Esq., out of the nomination on the Socialist ticket. The Socialists returned 7 votes for Snyder, 10 for Judge Bell, and 13 for Chase. Chase will therefore have the Republican and Socialist nominations, while Snyder has been nominated by the Democrats and Prohibitionists.

Pennsylvania will share in the increased number of Republican national delegates decreed by the Republican national committee in accordance with the decision of the last Republican national convention for the purpose of cutting down negro delegations from certain states of the "solid south."

According to a tentative list of delegations to the convention of 1924 made public today by the Republican national committee, Pennsylvania Republicans will be entitled to seventy-eight representatives as compared with seventy-six in 1920 as a result of the states having gone overwhelmingly for Warren G. Harding and the rest of the Republican ticket three years ago.

There will be a total of 1,036 delegates to the convention of 1924, as compared with 984 in the convention of 1920.

Certain northern and western states will benefit like Pennsylvania, while several southern states like Mississippi will suffer from the reapportionment which is frankly aimed at the so-called "black-and-tan" politicians of the south who have become increasingly troublesome to Republican leaders in the north and west.

It is explained the new list of the number of delegates to which each state will be entitled to in the convention of 1924, while believed to be accurate, in some states is based on figures which are not official, and is subject to correction. The list is, however, expected to stand, although members of the Republican national committee anticipate protests will continue to pour in upon them from the southern states affected which will culminate in another battle over the seating of negro delegates in the next Republican national convention. The abolition of representatives at-large from Pennsylvania in congress will also affect the make-up of the state delegation to the convention of 1924, although the delegation will be larger.

Where Pennsylvania sent twelve delegates-at-large to the convention of 1920, it will send six to that of 1924, although the reapportionment of congressional districts with an increase of four will give the state 72 district delegates, or two from each congressional district next year, instead of 64 as in 1920.

Coupled with the 72 district delegates will be four regular delegates-at-large in accordance with the reapportionment laid down by the last Republican national convention, and an additional two because the state cast a majority of votes for the Republican nominee for president in 1920, thus making a total of six delegates-at-large, which, added to the 72, will give Pennsylvania its promised delegation of 78.

BUILDER AND DESTROYER

Bickering, fault-finding and back-biting will retard the growth of any town. There can be no real prosperity where these are uppermost in the minds of a considerable portion of the population.

Consideration and energetic co-operation will materially advance the interests of any community. These form the groundwork of all great municipalities.

Natural advantages have much to do with future success, but natural advantages alone will not suffice. Co-operation is an essential element, but it never marches side by side with bickering and fault-finding. The latter are destroyers—not builders.

Possibly we are not over-burdened by the destroying element in Clearfield, but such as we have is entirely too much.

Community advancement means personal security to the individual, and this is best achieved through energetic and persistent co-operation.

Builder, or destroyer—which are you?

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

Success of all worldly things, is most sought after. It is also of all worldly things probably the least often obtained. The chief barriers to its attainment are two simple rules: Plan your work—work your plan. Simple rules, but to many insuperable—the unspanned chasm between the wagon and the star.

Planning means thinking, analyzing, systematizing—making things possible after the weaker-natures have pronounced them impossible.

Working means despising ease, forgetting hardships, laughing at discouragement—sticking until possibilities are turned into achievements.

Plan your work and work your plan are basic, fundamental, necessary—they are the universal laws of success.

There never was a time when concentrated thought and unstinted effort were not rewarded by a full measure of success and there never will be.

Wealth is not the measure of success, but love of work is the first symptom.

TIME

It is not time—seconds, minutes, hours, even years—but the use that men make of time that makes the difference in men's fortunes.

Nature is absolutely impartial in the distribution of her hours. She gives to no man time that she does not give to another. The same morning gives every man an equal start with his fellow man and the same night finds each another day further on the journey or lost by the wayside.

But all the time that nature gives to any man is the present. Man makes his own past and future. Grasp the opportunity of the golden present that the past may not bring regrets, nor the future be without hope.

The great, promising but evanescent NOW must be grasped in its potent whole to secure the future and free the past of regret.

Are six, eight, ten, twelve or eighteen hours a day man's allotted work? Not by all eternity! There are twenty-four hours on the clock and in man's working day. Man's work is twenty-four hours of sleep, recreation, eating and labor. There are no hours in the diurnal circuit for idleness, misguided recreation and intemperance in eating or sleeping. After the day's work has been earned there is still life's wage, the dues of evolution which must be earned in fruitful reading, healthful thought and deep-delving introspection.

Too many work-a-day men end work with the eight hours and wish for less, sleep ten hours and crave for more, eat to fullness and leave the table unsatisfied, hope in vain for the "luck in leisure," accept no opportunities to improve mind and body and see not that those who are getting ahead in this life are those for whom every "working hour" is a "working hour."

Working hours are found for the unwise, but the wise find hours in which to work.

Progress Editorial For Women

ALL HAIL THE THREE AMERICAS!

By FLORENCE DAVIES
For the Americas, peace and harmony, if American women of influence in governmental circles can compass it. From the small group in city, town or hamlet, working toward one end, through state and national bodies up to this latest drawing together of the women of the three Americas, the feminist leaven of today is leavening the whole lump.

The Pan-American International Woman's committee, of which Mr. Charles Evans Hughes of Washington is chairman, is sponsoring this latest get-together movement.

Soon we shall see women from all over the United States going to the capital as representatives of their various organizations, to discuss what the women of this country can do to foster a better understanding between the women of North America, Central America and South America.

Not only that, but on Columbus day, Friday, October 12th, when Mrs. Hughes and the United States section of her committee meet in Washington, similar meetings will be held in the capitals of Central and South America.

It rather takes one's breath away, this thinking in continents. Like the thousands of billions we referred to so glibly during the war, other estimates have traveled right along up till we have enlarged our capacity to deal with human beings as well as with dollars, and nations and hemispheres roll off our tongues as easily as village statistics once did.

Educational institutions and all sorts of women's organizations are to send representatives to Washington on Columbus day. No doubt the films will show us in due time the pretty, dark-haired women of the other two

Americas in earnest convalesce.

It's "All around the world and a little strap to buckle it," as Kipling says in his "Health to the Native Born." The General Federation of Women's Clubs embraces the earth in its friendly grasp, and the women of this latest American project are but forming an inner circle of their own that shall send out light and warmth to sister circles far away.

Mrs. Hughes has many prominent women on her sub-committee, among

Each of some 6,000 newspapers of the United States is publishing from week to week, names of people in its particular neighborhood, who have used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder troubles and urinary disorders. This mass of proof includes over 50,000 recommendations. Clearfield is no exception. Here is one of the Clearfield cases.

O. P. Conklin, 414 Nicholas St., shoemaker, says: "I suffered with my kidneys. I was drowsy and became dizzy. I also had headaches and severe pains in the small of my back, which caused a lot of annoyance. It was difficult for me to stoop on account of the trouble with my back. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me wonderfully, though, removing the pain in my back, dizziness and lowness. The headaches also went away."

Barney Oldfield Says:

B. BARNEY OLDFIELD
Some time ago I wrote about four-wheel brakes, and at that time made the prediction that many prominent makers would announce cars with this equipment. The public has already heard of the great strides this form of braking has made, and before another few months have passed many more makers will adopt four-wheel brakes.

Over in Europe, France leads with this equipment. England, Belgium, Italy and Germany follow. There are around seventy-five makes of foreign cars with four-wheel brakes. One make—Isotta-Fraschini—has used four-wheel brakes continually since 1909, so the four-wheel types are hardly new.

Recently there has come to my ears all sorts of ridiculous stories about what four-wheel brakes will do. While in New York I heard about a certain branch manager who was hurt because his four-wheel car overturned. In Buffalo I heard the same story about the branch manager there. In Chicago I heard a similar story.

It is quite obvious that stories of that kind are circulated by some one that does not like the progress being made by the companies that are using four-wheel brakes. They are trying to discredit this type. It can be done. You might as well question the judgment of all good engineering brains of France and Italy, Belgium and Germany. The braking systems here are based on designs that had their origin abroad.

Safer System of Braking
In the first place, let me say that four-wheel brakes are safer than two-wheel. The reason for the adoption of four-wheel brakes was the need for greater safety. The need has existed for ten years. We made our cars faster, more powerful, rapid accelerators, but forgot all about making them "good stoppers." The railroad companies developed braking first and then increased their speeds, for it was not until the advent of the air-brake and a brake on each wheel that railroad trains dared to go faster than thirty miles per hour. Now we travel at sixty and seventy, and the trains can be brought to a stop within its own length.

In the automobile field we developed engines and bodies and nearly every part of the car and the brakes were hardly touched. In recent years brakes have become worse, as a matter of fact, for diameters could not be increased because the wheel sizes have been getting smaller and smaller.

The smaller the brake diameter the less effective it is in braking; the wider the brake, the longer it will last. The brake diameter may be considered simply as a lever, and it is the length of a lever that counts, not how wide it is. When there are four levers of a given size they are bound to be more effective than two levers of the same length (diameter). That is why four-wheel brakes stop a car quicker. The four brakes do not have to be applied for so long a period. Four-wheel brakes last longer, because the four brakes wear far less than two brakes that have to do the same work of stopping.

Makes Steering Easier
One of the questions that has been asked often is the effect that the front brakes have on steering. As a matter of fact, steering is easier on cars with four-wheel brakes because of the fact that the designers call for inclining the steering king bolt. When the bolt is inclined, the so-called center point or caster effect is obtained.

In every four-wheel braking system there is provision for automatically releasing the outer brake on a turn. If the outer brakes locked there would be an appreciable effect on steering, but the designers knew that and made automatic provision for it. If there were any danger in four-wheel brakes, half the motoring population of France, Italy and Belgium would have been in hospitals long ago.

I appreciate the fact that not all car manufacturers have engineering departments that can design a correct four-wheel braking system, but that is not saying that in time they will not be able to do so. They are all working on four-wheel brakes now, and sooner or later they will adopt them, whether the cars are heavy or light.

The automobile owner will soon have as much braking ability as he has engine ability. As it is now, he has engine power and speed that he rarely uses to the maximum, but occasionally he wants to use them. So it should be with brakes. He should have a wide range of ability. He should be able to stop in a few car lengths going at forty miles per hour. He may not have to do that more than once a month, but then that once a month will save many lives.

NEW TRUNK LINE

ell, Clarion; H. A. Moore, DuBois. This committee retired and a recess of five minutes was taken.

When the assembly reconvened Mr. Woodward asked Mr. Crowley if any assurance could be given that the stretches of road necessary for the trunk line would be constructed in case permission was given to go ahead. Mr. Crowley answered that they would; that plans were drawn and right of way purchased for the stretch at Keating and that undoubtedly in stance from Rose's siding to Clearfield would be built.

Another question was asked in regard to whether the road would go through Reynoldsville. This was also answered in the affirmative by Mr. Crowley.

While waiting for the committee's report, Dr. Ashley, head of the state geological department, was introduced, and gave an interesting talk in regard to the possibilities of development of natural resources along the proposed trunk line.

The committee on organization then submitted its report. The committee recommended that a permanent organization be perfected and that the name adopted be the Lakes-to-the-Sea Trunk Line Railway Association. The dues shall be $1 per member, and there shall be one vote in the association for each 5,000 of population or fraction thereof. There shall be not less than two meetings each year, and special meetings shall be held at the call of the president or five members of the board of directors. It was recommended that the association have a president, vice president, secretary, assistant secretary and 25 members of the board of directors, these directors being elected from the various towns and cities along the proposed trunk line. There shall also be an executive committee of five members.

The committee recommended the following organization, which was approved:

Tom Sims SAYS---

The first sign of a winter is when you wish it was summer.

Do your eyes hurt you? Quit looking daggers at people.

Does dandruff bother you? Worry about it until you are bald and the dandruff will leave.

Do your trousers bug at the knees? Lean them to a bowlegged man and he will take the bug out.

Always chew tobacco while calling on a girl you do not want to kiss. It works fine.

Cry when a girl starts kissing you. Stomping on her feet is another way to make her stop it.

Damp feet are said to be one cause of bad colds. It shouldn't be so hard to give them up.

When a bad cold meets a good disposition the bad cold wins.

Put on too much speed ahead and you may meet with reverses.

Is your face your fortune? That is why so many men feel cheap when they need a shave.

Screens may be taken down properly by hiring a man to help you and then you helping him.

A woman marries a man to mend his ways and finds all he wants her to mend is his clothes.

Never worry about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.

A grinch may be a man who married a woman to share his troubles only to learn she caused them.

Nature gave skinny girls more than they can bare.

slaughter in criminal court this morning.

Kudrick was represented by J. Mitchell Chase. After accepting Kudrick's plea Judge Capeland, who was assisting Judge Bell in Criminal Court this week, sentenced him to pay a fine of $100.00 of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than four years, nor more than eight years.

Lewja Wisor, of Litz Bridge, who was tried before Judge Capeland for violation of the liquor law, was found not guilty, the jury recommending that the prosecutor, State Trooper Harold Pierce be directed to pay half the costs and the defendant the other half.

This case resulted from the State Trooper seeing a bunch of local young men drinking from a quart of moonshine at Curwensville one night several months ago. When taken into custody one of the boys said they had purchased the liquor from Wisor. A search warrant for Wisor's home was secured, but no liquor was found although several gallons of what the State Police said was "rye mash" and Wisor contended was "medicine" for a sick cow" was discovered. Wisor also denied the sale alleged to have been made by him and the jury believed his story, in part at least.

Wisor was defended by W. A. Hager, Esq., and prosecuted by District Attorney Arnold.

Judge Capeland told the jury that inasmuch as Prosecutor Pierce was an officer and brought the prosecution in line of duty, the law did not allow the placing of any part of the costs upon him and ordered that the prosecutor's half of the costs be paid by the county.

H. R. Burns, of DuBois, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of violating the liquor law, but his case has not been disposed of thus far.

Sentence was suspended in the case of Paul Toot charged with a liquor law violation.

Lloyd Rowles, of Woodland, who was prosecuted by David Lansberry for violating the liquor law, was lucky enough to draw a "not guilty" verdict from the jury which heard the testimony. The costs, however, were divided between prosecutor and defendant.

AN OLD TIMER AT THE FAIR
Frank Pents, son of the late Sheriff Andrew Pents, and a former Clearfield boy, is in the old home town this week greeting the old timers he finds about now and taking in Clearfield's Big Fair.

Frank was a former Pittsburgh business man and at the time of the world war was engaged in war work at Norfolk, Va. After the war he engaged in business in Norfolk and is prospering finely.

BAPTIST RECEPTION A MUSICAL
The reception given by the First Baptist church to the teachers, directors, and their wives, last Friday evening was a huge success.

The Sunday school room was decorated beautifully with cosmos, dahlias and anemones, and last but not least the real homey appearance was made by the two big living room sofas and floor lamps which were set in by the Knapp Furniture Store. The addresses given by the ministers and other noted men who were present were enjoyed by everybody. The orchestra consisting of Mrs. Henry Rhine, the Misses Way and Mitchell, played very beautifully throughout the evening. Mrs. Paul Stender sang two very pretty solos, and many comments were heard about her beautiful voice. Mrs. L. C. Moore, who has not done so much in public in this town, gave two very different numbers on the piano. She also handles the pipe organ very well. She is a graduate of the University of New York and took special work in the conservatory in Omaha, Nebraska, and Byron King's School of Oratory and Music in Pittsburgh.

Excellent refreshments were served.

OAKLAND CARS SUBJECTED TO GRUELLING TESTS

Once again the new L-head type motors on the 1924 Oakland models are being subjected to nearly the same grueling tests through which they had been run during the two years in which they were being tried out.

The demonstration is being made through the fleet of True Blue Oakland Travelers that left the factories at Pontiac, Mich., September 8, to all sections of the country.

The design of the new 6-54 models was started three years ago. Cars were tested for months under every conceivable weather and road condition, from coast to coast. They were run nights and days on Union Town Hill and in winter among the mountains of Pennsylvania. They were proved out on the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico and in the mountains of California.

One of the cars was driven 620 miles in 24 hours, while another was driven 275 miles in 7½ hours by one driver.

It is the first winter that experiment cars have been on the road without damage to the cars themselves or other cars or injury to any person.

Thus the motors were more vigorously tested than ever before in the history of the Oakland Motor Car company.

A specially shaped combustion chamber of the Ricardo type is used, giving greater power per cubic inch of piston displacement without fuel knocks or detonation. Oakland is probably the first company which has built both overhead and L-head motors of the same bore and stroke and due to the new developments in L-head construction, it has been found that this type of engine gives the greatest power and best performance.

The motor has a bore of 2 13/16 inches and a stroke of 4-3/4 inches, with a total piston displacement of 177 cubic inches, which is exactly the same as the previous Oakland engine.

The new 124 fewer parts on the new valve mechanism than on its predecessor.

Each cylinder is completely surrounded with water-jacketed space, which gives an even temperature throughout the engine. The cylinder block has a detachable head and the block and crank case are separate units. This construction makes it possible to replace a cylinder block without refitting crank shaft or bearings and without removing the motor from the chassis.

Starling.

History verifies the fact that the practice of starling, which came in fashion in England in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was invented by a Spanish woman about the middle of the fifteenth century. She wished to hide a blemish on her neck with an enormous ruff.

END OF GERMANY'S SECOND WAR COMES OFFICIALLY TODAY

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The end of Germany's passive resistance to Franco-Belgium occupation of the Ruhr was proclaimed officially today.

The proclamation declared the Government will not sign any agreement tearing away any portion of the nation from the Reich.

The end of resistance came after nine months. It was Germany's admission she has lost the "war after the war" and has again been brought to her knees by France.

The Reich Government now can only await the reaction in allied capitals and hope for leniency from Premier Poincare.

It was assumed copies of the proclamation, with the official information that Germany has surrendered, will be dispatched immediately to Paris, Brussels and London.

KERR ADDITION

The evangelistic campaign will continue this week and next Sunday. The interest increases and also the attendance. The Rev. R. F. Campbell, evangelist, makes strong appeals night after night. Seekers are coming to the altar. The attendance is remarkably good.

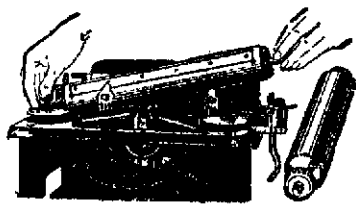

Different ministers of the town will preach next week. Services on Sunday as follows: 10:30 a. m.; 3:00 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.
At Mt. Joy, 10:45 a. m.
No services at Center church in the evening.

A. C. Logan, Pastor.

Mathematics.

The question as to what the science of mathematics shall be said to be has been discussed by philosophers and mathematicians for some 2,000 years, but as yet a generally approved definition has not been formulated. A common definition, but one held inadequate, is that mathematics is the science of finding out how many and how much, or the science of measurement.

Interchangeable Platen

One of the exclusive features of the L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter is the interchangeable platen.

With the use of no tools except the fingers, platens of different degrees of hardness can be inserted. There is the regular platen, the medium, the hard, and the brass platen, depending upon the number of copies desired.

Then there is the card-writing platen and the label-writing platen.

It is economical to have platens of different degrees of hardness, because a soft platen, which is used for ordinary correspondence, with one or two carbon copies, is much easier on ribbons, carbon paper, on the mechanism of the typewriter and on the nerves of the operator, as well as being much more quiet.

It is a great advantage, therefore, to be able to take out a hard platen, after it has been used for a special purpose, and insert the softer platen for regular work.

APPLE CROP LARGER IN PENNSYLVANIA THAN LAST YEAR

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Pennsylvania's commercial production of apples will be slightly larger than last year and the commercial output for the entire country will show an increase of 2,300,000 barrels, according to recent estimates prepared by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The increase for the country as a whole, from 31,000,000 barrels last year to a prospective harvest this year of 33,300,000 barrels, is due to heavier production in the northeast, especially in New York. An increase in this latter group of states equivalent to 2,802,000 barrels indicates that the commercial apple crop has diminished 500,000 barrels in the balance of the country.

"These figures emphasize the important place the northwestern crop will hold in the marketing of the 1923 crop," says Porter R. Taylor, head of the Bureau of Markets of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. "It must be remembered however that over 40 per cent of the commercial production of the country will be at such a distance from Pennsylvania markets that a freight rate of from 72 to 81 cents a bushel box will have to be paid before the fruit reaches our markets."

"New York is the most important source of apples for Pennsylvania markets," continues Mr. Taylor, "and the estimates for New York indicate a reduction of 788,000 barrels from last year's crop. Increases in Virginia and West Virginia more than offset the New York decrease."

"The total commercial production in this eastern group of states, including Pennsylvania, is estimated to be 9,546,000 barrels or 149,000 more than in 1922. Pennsylvania growers, making monthly reports to the State Department of Agriculture, indicated more encouraging orchard prospects."

on September 1 largely because of beneficial rains late in August."

The crop in the middle west this year will be about 500,000 barrels smaller than last season. Increases of 351,000 barrels in Ohio, 323,000 in Michigan and 225,000 in Arkansas are more than offset by decreases of 839,000 barrels in Illinois and 636,000 in Missouri.

All the box apple states except Colorado show an increase, indicating a total commercial apple output of 14,500,000 barrels, or 2,862,000 more than last year. Increases in production are estimated to be equivalent to 1,892,000 barrels in Washington, 432,000 in Oregon, 374,000 in Idaho and 331,000 in California. Colorado shows a decrease of 167,000 barrels.

MILITIAMEN DISPERSE MEMBERS OF OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE SEEKING TO MEET TO IMPEACH GOVERNOR WALTON

WILMINGTON, Delaware, Sept. 26.—"If one drop of Klansmen blood is spilled in Oklahoma today, Governor Jack Walton of that state will be hanged before sunset. The Klan in Oklahoma has done no harm. It has been law abiding, but we fear for the possibilities of today when the legislature meets in extra session there."

This statement was made by Dr. J. H. Hanks, Atlanta, Georgia, in addressing four hundred members of the Klan's provisional Klan early today. Hanks is a Klan official who has been organizing the order in the state of Delaware.

Members mobilizing members of the order in Oklahoma today have been issued, he stated. They will be armed and will "fight for their constitutional rights," he added.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—Oklahoma legislators attempting to convene for the impeachment of Governor J. C. Walton were dispersed before the doors of the hall of representatives today by the Oklahoma national guards.

The legislators left the capital building silently. There was no demonstration. Court action will be instituted immediately, according to Representative W. D. McBeck, to establish the legislators' rights to meet despite orders forbidding the assembly, issued by Governor Walton.

FEDERAL OFFICERS TOLD TO KEEP OFF OKLAHOMA FIGHT

Washington, Sept. 26.—President Coolidge has directed that Federal officials in Oklahoma maintain the strictest neutrality in any struggle that may occur between Governor Walton and State Legislators or other authorities.

The President, it was said at the White House, is determined that the Federal Government shall not be dragged into the Oklahoma trouble by either side, unless conditions make it necessary for the Government to step in to prevent great loss of life or a condition of lawlessness.

Emphatic orders not to permit the use of the Federal Building in Oklahoma City or any other place in Oklahoma as an assembly hall for the state legislators were telegraphed last night to custodians of all federal buildings in the state by Bacon Sloop, the President's Secretary.

Governor Walton Had The Situation Well In Hand Early Today

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—With a battery of artillery placed within shooting range of the State Capitol, Governor Jack Walton today defied the members of the Legislature to attempt to go into session.

The anti-Walton members plan to meet today at noon to impeach the Governor, who placed the state under martial law in his campaign against "Invisible Government" by masked bands.

500 National Guardsmen also are under orders to be at the State House at noon, to interpose a barrage of bayonets between the legislators and the capital building.

3,500 citizens are ready to come to his assistance if they are needed, Walton announced. If he is hard pressed, he will call them "to the colors," he said.

Members of the legislature who answered the call for the special session began gathering at Skervin Hotel early in the day in preparation for their attempt to storm the capital. Apparently there was considerable confusion in the ranks of the legislators, who, on the surface, at least, were without a plan of procedure.

A caucus scheduled for last night was not held. However, leaders indicated they had a program mapped out, which they believed would result in success of their movement, but they did not desire to show their hand before the hour set for the "show-down."

The Governor's camp was elated by the action of the Washington Administration in refusing to permit use of the Federal Building for the proposed meeting of the legislators.

Assemblies of more than "two persons near the capital was forbidden." All citizens were warned by newspapers to keep away from the vicinity of the capital.

State house employees were on a one day vacation on orders of the Governor. Only one entrance of the capital was unlocked and a heavy guard of troops blocked the way to that door.

Persons reaching the capital grounds were forced to carry special passes.

CONNELLY-FLANAGAN NUPTIALS

Miss Anna Connelly and Leo Flanagan, well known and popular Clearfield young people were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Francis Catholic church this morning. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock, the beautiful and impressive nuptial mass being celebrated by Rev. Father M. A. Ryan, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Miss Mary McGannon, of DuBois, cousin of the bride acted as bridesmaid, while the bride's brother, John F. Connelly was best man. Mrs. William Seifert played the wedding march and Mrs. R. L. McElroy sang two solos during the ceremony.

Following the wedding the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frank Connelly, on Cherry street, where a sumptuous and finely appointed wedding breakfast was enjoyed.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Frank Connelly. She is a fine young woman, possessing all the graces and accomplishments to make her a worthy helpmeet. She has been an office employee at the Garhart Knitting Machine Factory for several years and possesses a host of warm friends in Clearfield who wish her and her husband all the joys of a happy and successful married life. The groom is a promising young man holding the responsible position of shipping clerk with the Harbinson Walker Refractories Company and enjoys the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

At 10 o'clock the happy couple departed for Philadelphia by automobile and will visit several eastern cities and resorts before returning to their home on Cherry street.

President Of Bankers Association Praises Newspaper Advertising

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26.—The American Bankers' Association officially opened its 49th annual convention with a general session on the Million Dollar pier yesterday.

A vigorous assault on the various schools of so-called "radicals" of the day was made by J. H. Puelicher, president of the association, in his opening address. He spoke of the capitalistic system as having "brought all the people more comfort and greater leisure than any other system thus far."

The employment of newspaper advertising is the surest way for a bank to increase its business, W. R. Moorhouse, vice president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles, declared in his address before the bankers. As an advertising medium, the people of the entire community may be reached in a single day, he pointed out.

Mrs. E. M. Redhead of Akron, O., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mease. Ord Mease of Akron, O., is visiting relatives and friends.

Woodland's Booster Club Engages In Safety First Work For The Children

The Woodland Booster Club, organized some three or four months ago, continues to function in excellent manner, and since its organization has been the machinery by which a great many worth while things have been accomplished.

At Monday evening's meeting a committee was appointed to see that warning signs were erected at the approaches to the school zones in Woodland and there was also a committee named to attend the "Trunk Line meeting," which was held at Clearfield yesterday.

The speaker of the evening was Harold Woolridge, who some time ago was appointed to give the members of the Booster Club something in the way of early history of Clearfield county and especially that of Bradford township. Mr. Woolridge had his subject well in hand and his remarks were both instructive and entertaining.

The Club is very much interested in reducing accidents to children on the streets of Woodland, and in addition to seeing that warning signs are put up at schools, they have also appointed a committee whose duty will be to visit the different school rooms and give "Safety First" talks to the pupils.

OKLAHOMA SOLONS BEGAN MARCH ON CAPITAL AT 9:55

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—Insurgent State Representatives, seeking to impeach Governor J. C. Walton for his military warfare on the Ku Klux Klan, began their march on the state capital at 9:55 a. m. today.

As the legislators left their headquarters at the Skervin Hotel, they were flanked on either side by Governor Walton's operatives including some of the south-west's most famous gunmen.

The legislators planned to meet despite Governor Walton's threat to jail them all in case they attempted to gather. The towering "Guck" Garrett and Zack Mulhall, with heavy revolvers in plain view, directed the police officers. The legislators marched between the columns of Walton's operatives out of the hotel.

Word had been received from the Capitol building that the representatives would be allowed the freedom of the halls and corridors but would not be permitted to enter the senate chamber or the hall of representatives.

Armed guards were patrolling the Capitol grounds and all corridors of the buildings.

Sentries were posted at the entrances of the legislature.

NEW TRUNK LINE GETS BIG BOOST BY FORMATION HERE YESTERDAY OF LAKES TO THE SEA TRUNK LINE ASSOCIATION

Four Hundred Enthusiastic Boosters for Rights of the Central Northern and the Northwestern Part of State Band Themselves Together for Vigorous Action.

EVERY ACTION TAKEN WAS UNANIMOUS

The proposed new trunk line across the state of Pennsylvania took another step forward yesterday when representatives of every community between Williamsport and Oil City met here at the Dime Hotel to the Esq., of Clarion, who presented a number of about four hundred and formed an organization to be known as the Lakes to the Sea Railway Trunk Line Association until the matter of assignment of the railways of the nation is definitely settled under the terms of the Transportation Act of 1920.

The assemblage met at the Dime Hotel Ball room at 2:30 p. m. following the call authorized by the attendants at the Williamsport meeting some time ago at which every attempt to take action was thwarted by representatives of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads who were planted in the audience. Yesterday, those who came here came because they wanted action and it did not take long to get it.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. H. B. Powell who presided at the Williamsport meeting and who was again chosen chairman. Mr. Randall B. Brubaker was chosen secretary. Facing these two gentlemen were at least one hundred men from Brookville, as many from Clarion and more from DuBois. Other communities were well represented.

Mr. Powell briefly outlined the purpose of the meeting which was for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the communities represented and, if that sentiment was unanimous, to effect what the New York Central was endeavoring to do. He read liberal extracts from the testimony given by President Smith before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the steps that this executive department was carrying out in carrying out plans for the establishment of trunk lines, and the necessity for such action, especially the construction of the stretch of track from Rose Sliding in Clearfield and the acquisition of a portion of the Reading and the entire of the Central Railroad of

Victim Broke Neck In Fall After Fight With Studley, Defense; Able Lawyers On Defense.

KUDRICK GUILTY

Clyde Studley, who was placed on trial in Judge Bell's court on Monday last charged with the killing of Albert E. Brookman in a drunken row at the boarding house of H. C. Bailey in Lawrence township, near the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Works, was found not guilty by the jury which heard the evidence and returned their verdict last evening.

Brookman died as the result of a series of battles between himself and several other men engaged in an all day drinking bout there. Studley was one of the men with whom Brookman fought and the former admitted striking Brookman over the head and shoulders with a chair.

The witnesses called testified that after battling with Studley Brookman was able to walk out of the house, later being found hanging over the porch railing. An examination disclosed that the man was dead and it was found his death was caused by a broken neck.

The deense contended Brookman had broken his neck by falling off the porch after the affray with Studley and the jury took that view of the matter.

Studley was defended by J. Mitchell Chase and John J. Penn, while District Attorney Arnold conducted the prosecution.

Mike Kudrick, the Morant miner, who on July 23d last, struck George Rucker, aged 18, on the head with a club causing injuries which resulted in Rucker's death in the Philadelphia hospital on August 15th, entered a plea of guilty of voluntary manslaughter.

Curwensville's Own Column

It is not a question today of school coal contracts among the rank and file of Curwensville voters, but whether the county or the borough will be asked for the rebuilding of the Anderson creek bridge which dismantled itself last Saturday forenoon. After the Johnstown flood of 1899 had taken away and destroyed the wooden bridge at this point, the County Commissioners, namely Messrs. Thompson, Savage and Mock, gave or donated to Curwensville borough the sum of $5,000 for material for a new iron bridge, even going so far as to purchase and place the iron, etc., on the ground thus ending as was thought by them, their obligation. The borough, it is said by those who have remembered all of the circumstances, built the stone abutments and placed the iron work thereon. Since that time the borough authorities have taken care of and kept up the repairs to the structure. The question now being debated is "to whom does the bridge belong, and to whom will the expense of building a new one be charged?" The question does not simplify the fact that some one, let it be either county or borough, will have to provide some mode of getting to and from across the creek within the next few days at the farthest. Borough Council held a special meeting last evening for the purpose of discussing the question and figuring out some plan if it is their duty to do so, of laying a temporary passageway, if only sufficiently wide and strong enough to permit the school children a safe passage over the stream in going and returning from school.

Williams' Colored Singers, the world's greatest harmonizing octet has been secured for a one-night entertainment and will appear in the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening, October 11th, 1928. Gipsy Smith, one of America's greatest evangelists, sends out this testimonial: "I have had the rare pleasure of listening to the Williams' Jubilee Singers. Their singing is an uplifting as well as a refined entertainment. I gladly commend them to my friends and the general public."

Frank Hastings dropped into town the latter part of last week. We are told he will dispose of his property in this place and remove with his family to Buffalo, where he has secured employment at a good salary.

Borough Council met in special session Monday evening. Those of the Board present were President Hess, Sweney and Hills, First Ward, and Edwards, Small and Moore, representing the Second Ward. The purpose for which the meeting was called was to determine the bridge's ownership, and the providing for transporting passengers from one side of the creek to the other without endangering life or limb. Borough Solicitor Arnold and M. Westcott of the State Highway department were also present, and at intervals throughout the meeting proffered some very sensible advice and preliminary details of how to meet the emergency.

It seems that there is no doubt whatever that the bridge was borough property, but that question is not finally settled in the minds of Council or their attorney, nor will ownership be declared until Solicitor Arnold has more time to look into the records.

There is one thing morally sure, however, and that is that no state financial aid can be depended upon. It might be possible, however, that the County Commissioners might be persuaded to give a donation for the rebuilding of the bridge if the Borough has it to do, and Mr. Westcott offered several good suggestions as to the erection and cost of a concrete structure in case a bridge was to be placed on the old site.

It was decided to effectively close the approaches at both ends of the dismantled structure and prohibit persons using it even for a foot-bridge. This action was taken on legal advice in order that no accidents might happen thereon and thus avoid any and all suits for damages. The detour via the John Porter farm will be used by those traveling the Grampian road. By next Saturday the new state road will be opened from end of State street to the Roaring Run, thus giving passageway to the Anderson Creek hill route to DuBois.

It was also decided to have a state bridge inspector go over the bridge across the creek at south end of Filbert street, and report as to its strength and durability for heavy traffic which now necessarily must pass over it or go via the old wooden bridge at the mouth of the creek. It was also decided to make the creel run bridge below the tannery a "one way" passageway and also limit the weight to ten tons, including weight of vehicle; the speed to be not more than 15 miles per hour.

A committee for constructing a foot bridge was appointed. A motion was made by Edwards and seconded by Hills empowering said committee to proceed at once with the work. This trio consists of Pres. Hess, Sweney and Moore.

A letter was read from Attorney Hess asking that a settlement be amicably made with his clients, Geo

Segars and two others, who were in the Maxwell car when the bridge went down, they claim physical injury and damage to car. This matter was submitted to Solicitor Arnold. Mr. Westcott, as representing the State Highway Department, voiced himself to willing to do anything with in his power to assist the Borough in their present predicament.

The question of Borough finances was discussed and it was learned that Council could borrow only about $2000 until the limit of bonded indebtedness was reached, and that would only be a small portion of what it would take to replace the damaged bridge, say from $6000 to $8,000. But at least a bridge tax could be levied on taxpayers by Court Order and some other legal formalities complied with.

Paul Cutler, who resides out on the John Appleton homestead in Pike township, was taken into custody Monday night on a charge of selling moonshine, the purchaser being Charlie Draucker, it was alleged and sworn to by Mrs. Cal Price, with whom Draucker boarded. Cutler was given a hearing and sent to jail to await trial.

George Proud, who has been married but a short period of time, was arrested on a warrant charging him with non support of his family and desertion. He is now an inmate of Fort Lowell.

Miss Elizabeth King leaves today for Elmira, N. Y. where she will attend a fall and winter term of school.

NEW TRUNK LINE GETS BIG BOOST

New Jersey. It is very apparent that the extension of the "Clearfield route" as this is known, is a vital part of the New York Central plan for the establishment of a trunk line.

In conclusion Mr. Crowley stated there will be consolidations of railroads; that step is inevitable, and the proposition advanced by the New York Central will take nothing away from any community; it will add to the prosperity of these communities. He said that the proposed trunk line would make the distance between New York and Chicago 935 miles, approximately 40 miles shorter than any route now in use.

Following Mr. Crowley's address an opportunity was given for the asking of questions and A. H. Woodward propounded several. His first question was whether or not the new plan would take over the entire Philadelphia & Reading railroad. This and the question asked relative to the C. R. R. of N. J. had been fully answered in Mr. Crowley's address.

A. M. Liveright then asked what the building of this trunk line meant to Clearfield. Mr. Crowley answered by stating that no details in the plan had been worked out as regards to shops or terminals, but that the trunk line would give Clearfield, as well as all communities, better shipping facilities. At this point Chairman Powell stated Clearfield was already planning for improvements in case the railroad was built, and that he hoped the evening of its occurrence.

Wesley Edwards, of DuBois, was a business visitor to Curwensville yesterday.

all communities were doing the same thing.

Following this discussion the resolution introduced by Mr. Rimer, was unanimously adopted.

G. A. Stewart, of Clearfield, then introduced a resolution that petitions be circulated throughout all communities interested in the project and that all possible signatures be secured for forwarding to the Inter-State Commerce Commission. There was some discussion on this proposition but it was later adopted.

A motion was then passed authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee of five empowered to bring in nominations for permanent chairman, board of directors, suggest a name and outline a set of by-laws. This committee consisted of Philip Reed, of Clearfield; J. R. Osborn, DuBois; L. A. Leathers, Brookville; M. F. Powell, Clearfield.

ADVANCING years should not mean the approach of a period of dependency—of crutches and canes—of worry, care and fatigue! Don't dread the days ahead! Be prepared to grapple with the henchmen of Old Age—with rheumatism—with undermined health—with feebleness. The system that is free from impurities—through which rich red blood tingles—need not worry about advancing years. Effort the aid of S. S. S.—the builder of red blood cells—to fight off the infirmities of Old Age.

With the aid of S. S. S. when you reach this stage of life the nerve power that has been built up by ever increasing blood cells—the vim and vigor of youth that you possess will capably enable you to enjoy the advantages of passing years, while others less fortunate are feeble and dependent.

S. S. S. for nearly a century has been serving as a valuable and time honored assistant in the fight for hale and hearty Old Age. It is made only of pure vegetable ingredients and is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is the more economical.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. R. C.

The official primary election count for Judge shows that A. R. Chase, Esq., nosed J. Frank Snyder, Esq., out of the nomination on the Socialist ticket. The Socialists returned 7 votes for Snyder, 46 for Judge Bell, and 13 for Chase. Chase will therefore have the Republican and Socialist nominations, while Snyder has been nominated by the Democrats and Prohibitionists.

Pennsylvania will share in the increased number of Republican national delegates decreed by the Republican national committee in accordance with the decision of the last Republican national convention for the purpose of cutting down negro delegations from certain states of the "solid south."

According to a tentative list of delegations to the convention of 1924 made public today by the Republican national committee, Pennsylvania Republicans will be entitled to seventy-eight representatives as compared with seventy-six in 1920 as a result of the states having gone overwhelmingly for Warren G. Harding and the rest of the Republican ticket three years ago.

There will be a total of 1,036 delegates to the convention of 1924, as compared with 984 in the convention of 1920.

Certain northern and western states will benefit like Pennsylvania, while several southern states like Mississippi will suffer from the reapportionment which is frankly aimed at the so-called "black-and-tan" politicians of the south who have become increasingly troublesome to Republican leaders in the north and west.

It is explained the new list of the number of delegates to which each state will be entitled to in the convention of 1924, while believed to be accurate, in some states is based on figures which are not official, and is subject to correction. The list is, however, expected to stand, although members of the Republican national committee anticipate protests will continue to pour in upon them from the southern states affected which will culminate in another battle over the seating of negro delegates in the next Republican national convention. The abolition of representatives at-large from Pennsylvania in congress will also affect the make-up of the state delegation to the convention of 1924, although the delegation will be larger.

Where Pennsylvania sent twelve delegates-at-large to the convention of 1920, it will send six to that of 1924, although the reapportionment of congressional districts with an increase of four will give the state 72 district delegates, or two from each congressional district next year, instead of 64 as in 1920.

Coupled with the 72 district delegates will be four regular delegates-at-large in accordance with the reapportionment laid down by the last Republican national convention, and an additional two because the state cast a majority of votes for the Republican nominee for president in 1920, thus making a total of six delegates-at-large, which, added to the 72, will give Pennsylvania its promised delegation of 78.

BUILDER AND DESTROYER

Bickering, fault-finding and back-biting will retard the growth of any town. There can be no real prosperity where these are uppermost in the minds of a considerable portion of the population.

Consideration and energetic co-operation will materially advance the interests of any community. These form the groundwork of all great municipalities.

Natural advantages have much to do with future success, but natural advantages alone will not suffice. Co-operation is an essential element, but it never marches side by side with bickering and fault-finding. The latter are destroyers—not builders. Possibly we are not over-burdened by the destroying element in Clearfield, but such as we have is entirely too much.

Community advancement means personal security to the individual, and this is best achieved through energetic and persistent co-operation.

Builder, or destroyer—which are you?

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

Success of all worldly things, is most sought after. It is also of all worldly things probably the least often obtained. The chief barriers to its attainment are two simple rules: Plan your work—work your plan. Simple rules, but to many insuperable—the unspanned chasm between the wagon and the star.

Planning means thinking, analyzing, systematizing—making things possible after the weaker-natures have pronounced them impossible.

Working means despising ease, forgetting hardships, laughing at discouragement—sticking until possibilities are turned into achievements.

Plan your work and work your plan are basic, fundamental, necessary—they are the universal laws of success.

There never was a time when concentrated thought and unstinted effort were not rewarded by a full measure of success and there never will be.

Wealth is not the measure of success, but love of work is the first symptom.

TIME

It is not time—seconds, minutes, hours, even years—but the use that men make of time that makes the difference in men's fortunes.

Nature is absolutely impartial in the distribution of her hours. She gives to no man time that she does not give to another. The same morning gives every man an equal start with his fellow man and the same night finds each another day further on the journey or lost by the wayside.

But all the time that nature gives to any man is the present. Man makes his own past and future. Grasp the opportunity of the golden present that the past may not bring regrets, nor the future be without hope.

The great, promising but evanescent NOW must be grasped in its potent whole to secure the future and free the past of regret.

Are six, eight, ten, twelve or eighteen hours a day man's allotted work? Not by all eternity! There are twenty-four hours on the clock and in man's working day. Man's work is twenty-four hours of sleep, recreation, eating and labor. There are no hours in the diurnal circuit for idleness, misguided recreation and intemperance in eating or sleeping. After the day's work has been earned there is still life's wage, the dues of evolution which must be earned in fruitful reading, healthful thought and deep-delving introspection.

Too many work-a-day men end work with the eight hours and wish for less, sleep ten hours and crave for more, eat to fullness and leave the table unsatisfied, hope in vain for the "luck in leisure," accept no opportunities to improve mind and body and see not that those who are getting ahead in this life are those for whom every "waking hour" is a "working hour."

Working hours are found for the unwise, but the wise find hours in which to work.

Progress Editorial For Women

ALL HAIL THE THREE AMERICAS!

By FLORENCE DAVIES
For the Americas, peace and harmony, if American women of influence in governmental circles can compass it. From the small group in city, town or hamlet, working toward one end, through state and national bodies up to this latest drawing together of the women of the three Americas, the feminist heaven of today is leavening the whole lump.

The Pan-American International Woman's committee, of which Mr. Charles Evans Hughes of Washington is chairman, is sponsoring this latest get-together movement.

Soon we shall see women from all over the United States going to the capital as representatives of their various organizations, to discuss what the women of this country can do to foster a better understanding between the women of North America, Central America and South America.

Not only that, but on Columbus day, Friday, October 12th, when Mrs. Hughes and the United States section of her committee meet in Washington, similar meetings will be held in the capitals of Central and South America.

It rather takes one's breath away, this thinking in continents. Like the thousands of billions we referred to so glibly during the war, other estimates have traveled right along up till we have enlarged our capacity to deal with human beings as well as with dollars, and nations and hemispheres roll off our tongues as easily as village statistics once did.

Educational institutions and all sorts of women's organizations are to send representatives to Washington on Columbus day. No doubt the films will show us in due time the pretty, dark-haired women of the other two

Americas in earnest convalesce.

It's "All around the world and a little strap to buckle it," as Kipling says in his "Health to the Native Born." The General Federation of Women's Clubs embraces the earth in its friendly grasp, and the women of this latest American project are but forming an inner circle of their own that shall send out light and warmth to sister circles far away.

Mrs. Hughes has many prominent women on her sub-committee, among

Barney Oldfield Says:

By BARNEY OLDFIELD

Some time ago I wrote about four-wheel brakes, and at that time made the prediction that many prominent makers would announce cars with this equipment. The public has already heard of the great strides this form of braking has made, and before another few months have passed many more makers will adopt four-wheel brakes.

Over in Europe, France leads with this equipment. England, Belgium, Italy and Germany follow. There are around seventy-five makes of foreign cars with four-wheel brakes. One make—Isotta-Fraschini—has used four-wheel brakes continually since 1909, so the four-wheel types are hardly new.

Recently there has come to my ears all sorts of ridiculous stories about what four-wheel brakes will do. While in New York I heard about a certain branch manager who was hurt because his four-wheel car overturned. In Buffalo I heard the same story about the branch manager there. In Chicago I heard a similar story.

It is quite obvious that stories of that kind are circulated by some one that does not like the progress being made by the companies that are using four-wheel brakes. They are trying to discredit this type. It can be done. You might as well question the judgment of all good engineering brains of France and Italy, Belgium and Germany. The braking systems here are based on designs that had their origin abroad.

Safer System of Braking
In the first place, let me say that four-wheel brakes are safer than two wheel. The reason for the adoption of four-wheel brakes was the need for greater safety. The need has existed for ten years. We made our cars faster, more powerful, rapid accelerators, but forgot all about making them "good stoppers." The railroad companies developed braking first and then increased their speeds, for it was not until the advent of the air-brake and a brake on each wheel that railroad trains dared to go faster than thirty miles per hour. Now we travel at sixty and seventy, and the trains can be brought to a stop within its own length.

In the automobile field we developed engines and bodies and nearly every part of the car and the brakes were hardly touched. In recent years brakes have become worse, as a matter of fact, for diameters could not be increased because the wheel sizes have been getting smaller and smaller.

The smaller the brake diameter the less effective it is in braking; the wider the brake, the longer it will last. The brake diameter may be considered simply as a lever, and it is the length of a lever that counts, not how wide it is. When there are four levers of a given size they are bound to be more effective than two levers of the same length (diameter). That is why four-wheel brakes stop a car quicker. The four brakes do not have to be applied for so long a period. Four-wheel brakes last longer, because the four brakes wear far less than two brakes that have to do the same work of stopping.

Makes Steering Easier
One of the questions that has been asked often is the effect that the front brakes have on steering. As a matter of fact, steering is easier on cars with four-wheel brakes because of the fact that the designers call for inclining the steering king bolt. When the bolt is inclined, the so-called center point or caster effect is obtained.

In every four-wheel braking system there is provision for automatically releasing the outer brake on a turn. If the outer brakes locked there would be an appreciable effect on steering, but the designers knew that and made automatic provision for it. If there were any danger in four-wheel brakes, half the motoring population of France, Italy and Belgium would have been in hospitals long ago.

I appreciate the fact that not all car manufacturers have engineering departments that can design a correct four-wheel braking system, but that is not saying that in time they will not be able to do so. They are all working on four-wheel brakes now, and sooner or later they will adopt them, whether the cars are heavy or light.

The automobile owner will soon have as much braking ability as he has engine ability. As it is now, he has engine power and speed that he rarely uses to the maximum, but occasionally he wants to use them. So it should be with brakes. He should have a wide range of ability. He should be able to stop in a few car lengths going at forty miles per hour. He may not have to do that more than once a month, but then that once a month will save many lives.

Have You Money To Invest?

Our Bond Department is conversant with the investment situation. It is in touch with the financial centers and knows the issues that are being offered.

It has purchased for the bank some of these bonds. It offers to customers only such securities as the bank would purchase for itself.

If you wish to make an investment we shall be glad to give you information from our files.

We shall appreciate an opportunity to suggest a list of bonds if you will call at the bank or write us.

NEW TRUNK LINE

ell, Clarion; H. A. Moore, DuBois. This committee retired and a recess of five minutes was taken.

When the assembly reconvened Mr. Woodward asked Mr. Crowley if any assurance could be given that the stretches of road necessary for the trunk line would be constructed in case permission was given to go ahead. Mr. Crowley answered that they would; that plans were drawn and right of way purchased for the stretch at Keating and that undoubtedly in stance from Rose's siding to Clearfield would be built.

Another question was asked in regard to whether the road would go through Reynoldsville. This was also answered in the affirmative by Mr. Crowley.

While waiting for the committee's report, Dr. Ashley, head of the state geological department, was introduced, and gave an interesting talk in regard to the possibilities of development of natural resources along the proposed trunk line.

The committee on organization then submitted its report. The committee recommended that a permanent organization be perfected and that the name adopted be the Lakes-to-the-Sea Trunk Line Railway Association. The dues shall be $1 per member, and there shall be one vote in the association for each 5,000 of population or fraction thereof. There shall be not less than two meetings each year, and special meetings shall be held at the call of the president or five members of the board of directors. It was recommended that the association have a president, vice president, secretary, assistant secretary and 25 members of the board of directors, these directors being elected from the various towns and cities along the proposed trunk line. There shall also be an executive committee of five members.

The committee recommended the following organization, which was approved:

H. B. Powell, president, Clearfield; M. I. McCreight, vice president, DuBois; Randall B. Brubaker, secretary, Clearfield.

H. W. Shaffer, treasurer, Lock Haven.

WONDERFUL
LOWER THAN EXPECTED

You most always think of a jewelry store as being a high priced gift shop and a place where they have pretty gifts but—oh, so high priced! The pretty gifts are all here but the prices are a mighty pleasant surprise when you come to compare them with things of the same kind other places.

We have hundreds of gifts here that will be very acceptable to anyone, but the prices are such that you can make the gift and yet not feel that you have strained the purse strings. Come in the first time you have a gift of some kind to make and see what we have for you.

The first sign of a winter is when you wish it was summer.

Do your eyes hurt you? Quit looking daggers at people.

Does dandruff bother you? Worry about it until you are bald and the dandruff will leave.

Do your trousers bug at the knees? Lean them to a bowlegged man and he will take the bug out.

Always chew tobacco while calling on a girl you do not want to kiss. It works fine.

Cry when a girl starts kissing you. Stomping on her feet is another way to make her stop it.

Damp feet are said to be one cause of bad colds. It shouldn't be so hard to give them up.

When a bad cold meets a good disposition the bad cold wins.

Put on too much speed ahead and you may meet with reverses.

Is your face your fortune? That is why so many men feel cheap when they need a shave.

Screens may be taken down properly by hiring a man to help you and then you helping him.

A woman marries a man to mend his ways and finds all he wants her to mend is his clothes.

slaughter in criminal court this morning.

Kudrick was represented by J. Mitchell Chase. After accepting Kudrick's plea Judge Capeland, who was assisting Judge Bell in Criminal Court this week, sentenced him to pay a fine of $100.00 of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than four years, nor more than eight years.

Lewja Wisor, of Litz Bridge, who was tried before Judge Capeland for violation of the liquor law, was found not guilty, the jury recommending that the prosecutor, State Trooper Harold Pierce be directed to pay half the costs and the defendant the other half.

This case resulted from the State Trooper seeing a bunch of local young men drinking from a quart of moonshine at Curwensville one night

NOTICE OF PRIVATE SALE OF REAL ESTATE
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Administrator of the estate of Harry Chaucer, late of Knox Township, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, deceased, has made application to the Court for the private sale, for the payment of debts, of all the real estate of said decedent, being all that certain tract or piece of land situated in Knox Township, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a post in public road, a corner of land of Daniel Bauman, on line of land of H. F. Rowles; thence along said road North sixty-one degrees East, eighteen and eight-tenths perches; thence North seventy-four degrees, East seventy perches; thence North sixty and one-fourth degrees, East twenty-three and four-tenths perches to post on line of Cathcart land; thence South thirty-nine and three-fourths degrees East ninety perches more or less, to post; thence by land of Chase, South fifty-seven degrees West one hundred twenty perches, more or less to a post; thence by land of H. F. Rowles, North thirty-two degrees West one hundred twenty perches to post on road and place of beginning, and containing seventy-six acres (76) and allowance, and being the same premises known as parcel No. one in the proceedings in partition in re: D. P. Morrison versus Sarah Bauman, brought in the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County on No. 281 January Term, 1874.

RESERVING AND EXCEPTING NEVERTHELESS. All the coal, fire clay, iron ore, gold and silver, and other minerals, oil and gas in, under and upon the same, with the right of ingress, egress and regress, into, over and upon the same, for the purpose of mining and removing said coal, fire clay, iron ore, gold and silver, and other minerals, oil and gas, with the right to build roads, railroads, tramroads, through, upon and over the surface of said land; and also the right to erect chutes, dumps, tipples, planes and all necessary buildings (except miners' houses) as may be necessary for the proper mining and removal of said coal, fire clay, iron ore, gold and silver, and other minerals, oil and gas, with the right to transport, through, over and upon, said lands, any coal, fire clay, iron ore, gold and silver and other minerals, oil and gas, which may be acquired, or to be hereafter acquired by the party of the first part, his heirs and assigns, or those now owning, or hereafter to become the owner of said coal, fire clay, iron ore, gold and silver, and other minerals, oil and gas, without any liability for damages that may be caused to the surface of said land, or the water or springs thereon or thereunder, by reason of several months ago. When taken into custody one of the boys said they had purchased the liquor from Wisor. A search warrant for Wisor's home was secured, but no liquor was found although several gallons of what the State Police said was "rye mash" and Wisor contended was "medicine" for a sick cow" was discovered. Wisor also denied the sale alleged to have been made by him and the jury believed his story, in part at least.

Wisor was defended by W. A. Hager, Esq., and prosecuted by District Attorney Arnold.

Judge Capeland told the jury that inasmuch as Prosecutor Pierce was an officer and brought the prosecution in line of duty, the law did not allow the placing of any part of the costs upon him and ordered that the prosecutor's half of the costs be paid by the county.

H. R. Burns, of DuBois, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of violating the liquor law, but his case has not been disposed of thus far.

Sentence was suspended in the case of Paul Toot charged with a liquor law violation.

Lloyd Rowles, of Woodland, who was prosecuted by David Lansberry for violating the liquor law, was lucky enough to draw a "not guilty" verdict from the jury which heard the testimony. The costs, however, were divided between prosecutor and defendant.

OAKLAND CARS SUBJECTED TO GRUELLING TESTS

Once again the new L-head type motors on the 1924 Oakland models are being subjected to nearly the same grueling tests through which they had been run during the two years in which they were being tried out.

The demonstration is being made through the fleet of True Blue Oakland Travelers that left the factories at Pontiac, Mich., September 8, to all sections of the country.

The design of the new 6-54 models was started three years ago. Cars were tested for months under every conceivable weather and road condition, from coast to coast. They were run nights and days on Union Town Hill and in winter among the mountains of Pennsylvania. They were proved out on the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico and in the mountains of California.

One of the cars was driven 620 miles in 24 hours, while another was driven 275 miles in 7½ hours by one driver.

It is the first winter that experiment cars have been on the road without damage to the cars themselves or other cars or injury to any person.

Thus the motors were more vigorously tested than ever before in the history of the Oakland Motor Car company.

A specially shaped combustion chamber of the Ricardo type is used, giving greater power per cubic inch of piston displacement without fuel knocks or detonation. Oakland is probably the first company which has built both overhead and L-head motors of the same bore and stroke and due to the new developments in L-head construction, it has been found that this type of engine gives the greatest power and best performance.

The motor has a bore of 2 13/16 inches and a stroke of 4-3/4 inches, with a total piston displacement of 177 cubic inches, which is exactly the same as the previous Oakland engine.

There are 124 fewer parts on the new valve mechanism than on its predecessor.

Each cylinder is completely surrounded with water-jacketed space, which gives an even temperature throughout the engine. The cylinder block has a detachable head and the block and crank case are separate units. This construction makes it possible to replace a cylinder block without refitting crank shaft or bearings and without removing the motor from the chassis.

Starving.

History verifies the fact that the practice of starving, which came in fashion in England in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was invented by a Spanish woman about the middle of the fifteenth century. She wished to hide a bluish on her neck with an enormous ruff.

END OF GERMANY'S SECOND WAR COMES OFFICIALLY TODAY

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The end of Germany's passive resistance to Franco-Belgium occupation of the Ruhr was proclaimed officially today.

The proclamation declared the Government will not sign any agreement tearing away any portion of the nation from the Reich.

The end of resistance came after nine months. It was Germany's admission she has lost the "war after the war" and has again been brought to her knees by France.

The Reich Government now can only await the reaction in allied capitals and hope for leniency from Premier Poincare.

It was assumed copies of the proclamation, with the official information that Germany has surrendered, will be dispatched immediately to Paris, Brussels and London.

KERR ADDITION

The evangelistic campaign will continue this week and next Sunday. The interest increases and also the attendance. The Rev. R. F. Campbell, evangelist, makes strong appeals night after night. Seekers are coming to the altar. The attendance is remarkably good.

Different ministers of the town will preach next week. Services on Sunday as follows: 10:30 a. m.; 3:00 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.
At Mt. Joy, 10:45 a. m.
No services at Center church in the evening.

Mathematics.

The question as to what the science of mathematics shall be said to be has been discussed by philosophers and mathematicians for some 2,000 years, but as yet a generally approved definition has not been formulated. A common definition, but one held inadequate, is that mathematics is the science of finding out how many and how much, or the science of measurement.

Mistaken Identity.

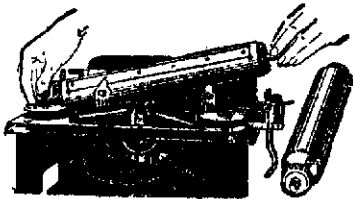

A young millionaire showed a black eye to a beautiful film star, and said, reproachfully: "Why did you look me down when I kissed you in the dark conservatory?" "Forgive me, dear one," the beautiful star explained. "I thought it was my husband."

Interchangeable Platen

One of the exclusive features of the L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter is the interchangeable platen.

With the use of no tools except the fingers, platens of different degrees of hardness can be inserted. There is the regular platen, the medium, the hard, and the brass platen, depending upon the number of copies desired.

Then there is the card-writing platen and the label-writing platen.

It is economical to have platens of different degrees of hardness, because a soft platen, which is used for ordinary correspondence, with one or two carbon copies, is much easier on ribbons, carbon paper, on the mechanism of the typewriter and on the nerves of the operator, as well as being much more quiet.

It is a great advantage, therefore, to be able to take out a hard platen, after it has been used for a special purpose, and insert the softer platen for regular work.

APPLE CROP LARGER IN PENNSYLVANIA THAN LAST YEAR

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Pennsylvania's commercial production of apples will be slightly larger than last year and the commercial output for the entire country will show an increase of 2,300,000 barrels, according to recent estimates prepared by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The increase for the country as a whole, from 31,000,000 barrels last year to a prospective harvest this year of 33,300,000 barrels, is due to heavier production in the northeast, especially in the apple belt. An increase in this latter group of states equivalent to 2,802,000 barrels indicates that the commercial apple crop has diminished 500,000 barrels in the balance of the country.

"These figures emphasize the important place the northwestern crop will hold in the marketing of the 1923 crop," says Porter R. Taylor, head of the Bureau of Markets of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. "It must be remembered however that over 40 per cent of the commercial production of the country will be at such a distance from Pennsylvania markets that a freight rate of from 72 to 81 cents a bushel box will have to be paid before the fruit reaches our markets."

"New York is the most important source of apples for Pennsylvania markets," continues Mr. Taylor, "and the estimates for New York indicate a reduction of 788,000 barrels from last year's crop. Increases in Virginia and West Virginia more than offset the New York decrease."

"The total commercial production in this eastern group of states, including Pennsylvania, is estimated to be 9,546,000 barrels or 149,000 more than in 1922. Pennsylvania growers, making monthly reports to the State Department of Agriculture, indicated more encouraging orchard prospects."

on September 1 largely because of beneficial rains late in August."

The crop in the middle west this year will be about 500,000 barrels smaller than last season. Increases of 351,000 barrels in Ohio, 323,000 in Michigan and 225,000 in Arkansas are more than offset by decreases of 839,000 barrels in Illinois and 636,000 in Missouri.

All the box apple states except Colorado show an increase, indicating a total commercial apple output of 14,500,000 barrels, or 2,862,000 more than last year. Increases in production are estimated to be equivalent to 1,892,000 barrels in Washington, 432,000 in Oregon, 374,000 in Idaho and 331,000 in California. Colorado shows a decrease of 167,000 barrels.

ARE YOU A MOTHER?

Take This Advice if Run-down, Weak or Nervous

Eric, Pa.—"During the time I was raising my family I became very delicate and weak, was miserable all the time until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I found it most beneficial during expectancy and afterward to give me strength. For several years I depended entirely on this medicine to keep me in good health, which it did. I heartily recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to women who become weak and run-down while raising their families."—Mrs. J. McGuire, 218 Scott Street.

How Good is Your Eyesight?

Badly smashed up—yet recovering—this motorist's vision was found by the Court to be dangerously below normal. He lost his case because failure to have his eyes examined constituted contributory negligence.

Drivers with faulty vision are largely responsible for the crippling and killing of human beings in the streets we all must use.

Eyes behind the steering wheel must see ALL of the road. Do yours? You CANNOT know until you have them tested.
